17TH BGA YOUNG GEOTECHNICAL ENGINEERS SYMPOSIUM

The Young Geotechnical Engineers Symposium 2024 will be held by the University of Cambridge on July 1-3, 2024. YGES2024 will bring together students and early career researchers and practicing engineers to discuss the latest advances in geotechnical engineering and to address the current challenges in ground engineering. This will be an excellent opportunity to showcase exciting and innovative projects, gain valuable feedback, and build relationships. Info at: <https://www-geo.eng.cam.ac.uk/events/yges2024>

Demonstrate Innovation

There is no restriction on topic other than it must demonstrate innovation in research, design or construction in geotechnical engineering.

Best Presentation Prize

The winner of the best presentation at the Symposium will be invited to present at the BGA conference at the ICE in London in June 2025.
